Commercial real estate finance

Dechert is recognizable as one of the few firms — if not the only firm — that maintains a seamless commercial real estate capital markets practice extending from loan origination, through loan acquisition and disposition, securitization, and creditors’ rights and enforcement. Major U.S. and European banks, life insurance companies and non-bank lenders trust Dechert to oversee their sophisticated commercial real estate finance transactions.

Life sciences finance

As part of Dechert's market-leading life sciences industry group, our global finance lawyers advise on the full range of finance transactions on behalf of new and established life sciences companies. We work closely with these companies to capture and structure the capital they need to support the long development and commercialization process, ranging from early-stage venture financings and venture debt to more innovative transactions such as royalty monetization and drug development financing strategies used to accelerate growth and to manage balance sheet risk. We also have experience advising both companies and lenders on a wide range of convertible, senior debt, acquisition-related and other life sciences industry financing transactions.

Client Service Principles and Values

Dig deep

Work the problem from all angles. Think hard about the options and apply rigor and creativity in equal measure before proposing a solution.

Reach out

Consult widely and always aim to bring the best of Dechert's knowledge and expertise to your clients, wherever it resides in the firm.

Do the math

Clients tend to have business problems, not just legal problems. Make sure we always balance the commercial implications alongside the legal ones in our advice.

Make it happen

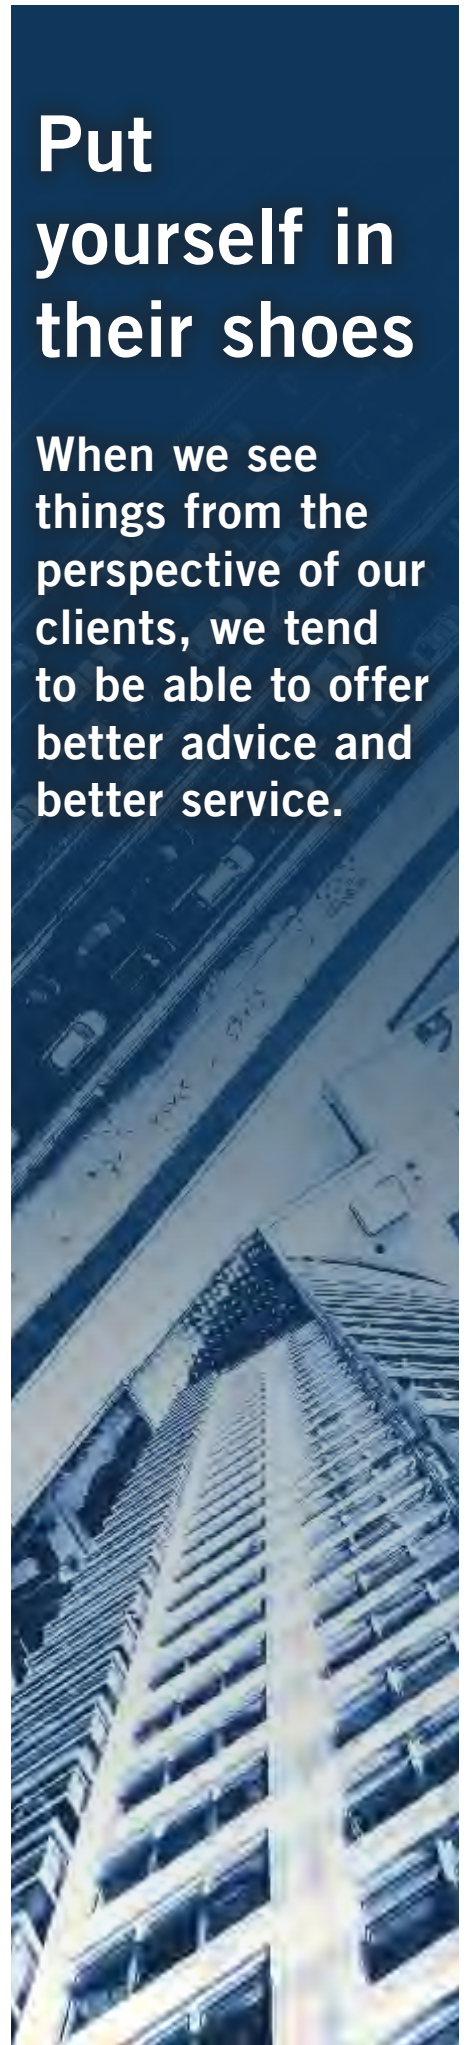

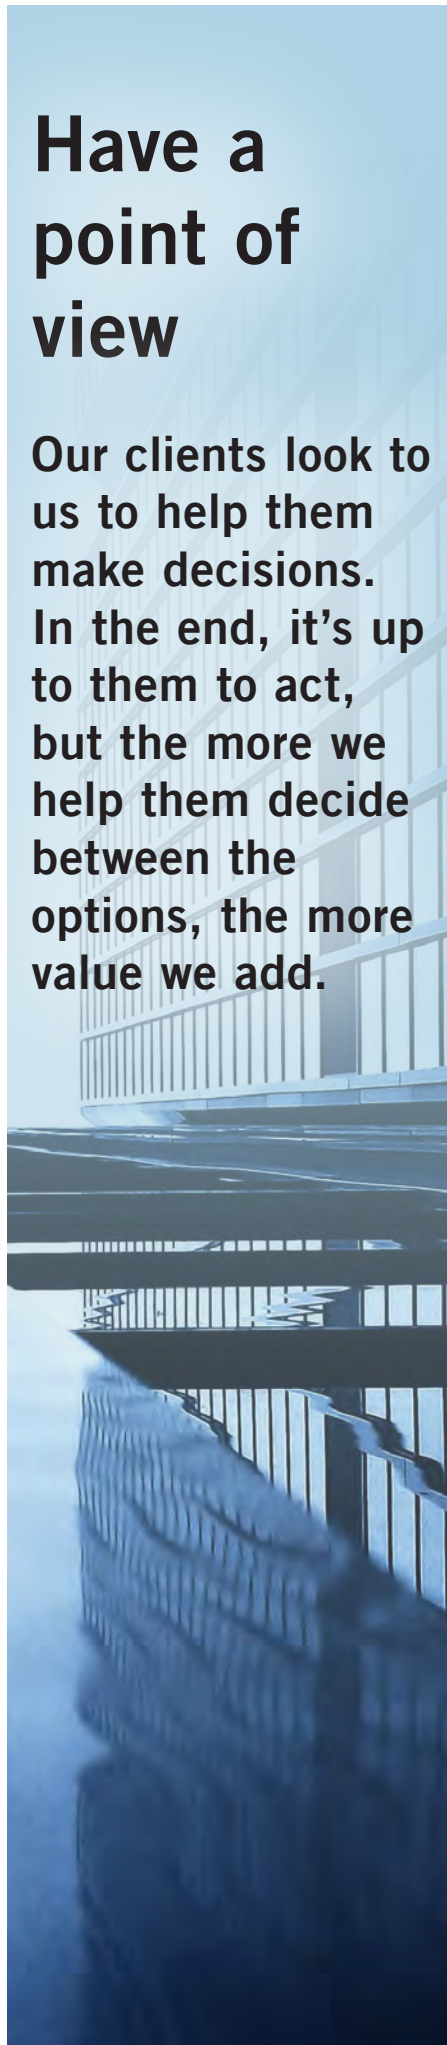

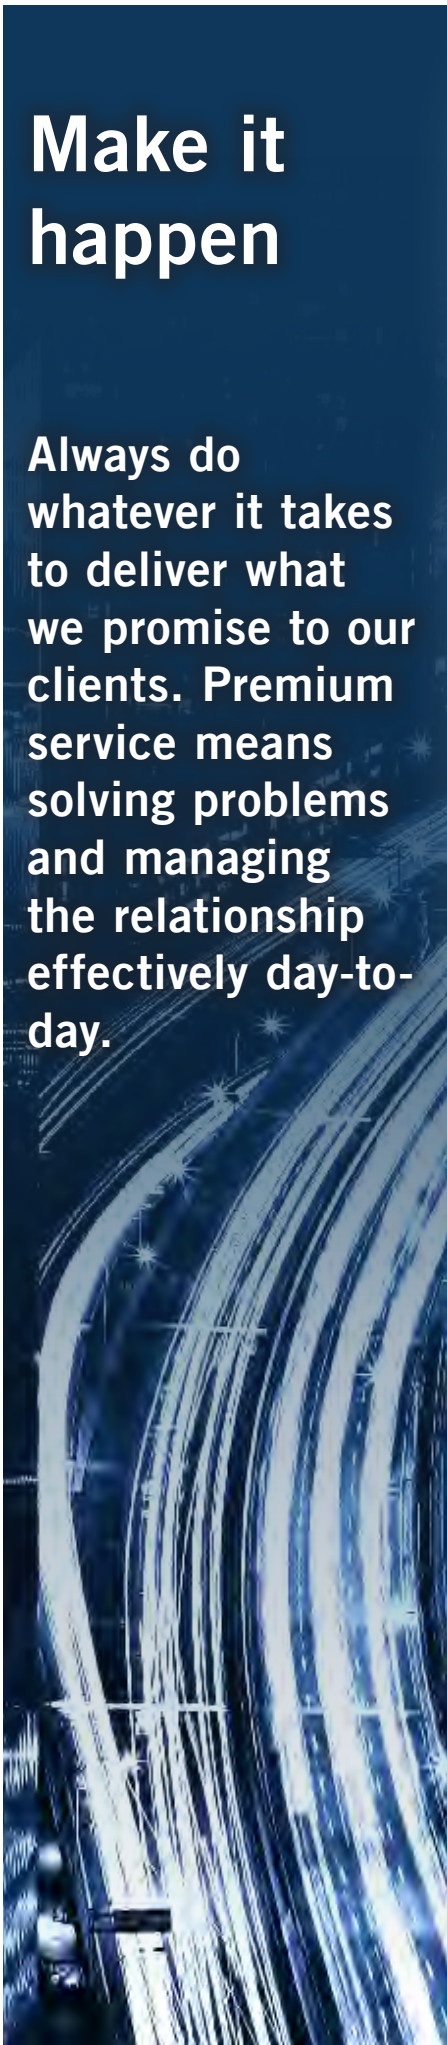

Always do whatever it takes to deliver what we promise to our clients. Premium service means solving problems and managing the relationship effectively day-to-day.

Have a point of view

Our clients look to us to help them make decisions. In the end, it's up to them to act, but the more we help them decide between the options, the more value we add.

Put yourself in their shoes

When we see things from the perspective of our clients, we tend to be able to offer better advice and better service.

A varied client base

Our global finance group is the choice of market makers for innovative structures, creative financing strategies and complex transactions.
