Services

Intellectual Property > IP Litigation > Patent Litigation >

Gregory T. Chuebon focuses his practice on intellectual property litigation and has over a decade of experience protecting and enforcing intellectual property rights in federal courts across the country. Mr. Chuebon regularly represents some of the world's largest consumer products and technology companies, both as plaintiffs and defendants, in patent litigation matters involving high-profile, flagship products. He has also secured substantial jury awards for patent holders for violations of intellectual property rights.

Mr. Chuebon has represented clients in patent litigation matters in a wide range of hardware, software and communications technologies, including mobile devices, mobile payment systems, wireless communications, motherboard chipsets, e commerce systems, GPS/geolocation, peer-to-peer networks, secure communication protocols, data backup/recovery, data compression and numerous standards-based technologies such as Bluetooth, IEEE 802.11ac MU-MIMO and Power-over-Ethernet systems. He also advises clients on intellectual property issues related to various investments, mergers, acquisitions and other transactional matters.

Prior to joining Dechert, Mr. Chuebon was a senior associate at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett in New York.

EXPERIENCE

- IOENGINE as trial counsel in cases involving secure USB storage devices.
