Sophie Mitouard focuses her practice on antitrust and competition matters, with particular emphasis on public law and litigation before administrative courts.

Ms. Mitouard has significant experience in the filing of merger notifications to the Commission and to several European Competition Authorities in the automotive, food and health sector. She has also participated in summary proceedings regarding public contracts in the health sector, as well as drafted memos regarding the practices of dominant operators in a regulated sector.

Prior to joining Dechert, Ms. Mitouard trained in the competition and public departments of French law firms and in the legal department of an airline.
